Thousands Of Pickets Ring Ford Factory

Governor Of Michigan Makes Effort To Bring Principals Together On Settlement

STRIKE IS NOW IN THIRD DAY

By BOB CLARK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

DETROIT, May 7.—Thousands of pickets ringed the Ford Motor Company's strikebound River Rouge plant today and the production paralysis began creeping slowly across the nation to the firm's "satellite" and supplier units.

Ford branch plants started preparations to close for the duration of the walkout of 60,000 Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury workers and in Cleveland the Ferro Machine and Foundry Co., makers of miscellaneous parts for Ford, laid off 2,000 employees.

Meanwhile, as the work stoppage entered its third day, Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn asked the strike principals and Gov. G. Mennen Williams to join him in a "supreme civic effort" to end the strike over alleged speedups.

In special delivery letters posted last night, the mayor asked CIO-UAW President Walter P. Reuther, company president Henry Ford II and Williams to meet in his office Thursday at 3 p. m., (EST).

None of the recipients was available for comment when Hubbard's action was announced.

The mayor acted shortly after Ford penalized 28 men charged with conducting a wildcat strike a week ago yesterday and again last Monday.

Fourteen were discharged outright and the remaining 14 drew two-week disciplinary layoffs, effect as of the current strike's termination.

First Stoppage Since 1941

PA NEW OBSERVES

Chris H. Byler, of New Wilmington, R.D. 2, in company with Chris J. Byler, a neighbor, have returned after fishing Tuesday to Thursday in the river near Jamestown, Pa. It is reported that the former landed a 32 inch carp, and returned Thursday night. He brought it home in a wicker basket, and it was still alive upon reaching here, and he has put the fish in the spring near his home, and it is still living. Mr. Byler used a cane pole, with night crawlers for bait, and it took him 20 minutes to land the "whooper."

Judging from the large piles of limestone being deposited along some of the secondary highways in the county, it is evident that road surfacing is about to be started for the summer by the state highway department workers.

Early spring heat wave which has gripped this area for the past few days took its departure during the night when a cool wave arrived. Temperature dropped 20 to 30 degrees, and weather conditions today are about normal for the season.

Many special programs have been arranged in the city on Sunday for the observance of Mothers Day.

There is still some plowing done in the county with horse power, Pa. News notes. On most farms, however, plowing is done with tractor power.

Redbud or Judas trees are now beautiful with their pink blossoms which come before the shiny heart-shaped leaves leaves do.

Above is Mayor John F. Haven, receiving a message, flown from Washington, D. C., by pigeon, "Smokey," held by its owner, Wm. Keys of R. D. No. 1, New Castle. The pigeon arrived at 11:21 a. m. Friday. The message was from the president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to Mayor Haven, telling of the Columbian, a train which bears a car named for New Castle.

On the flight from Washington "Smokey" was accompanied by two other pigeons. They made the trip in approximately five hours. The text of the message brought by the pigeon was as follows:

Dear Mayor Haven:
The New Columbian, the Baltimore and Ohio's newest train, sends you greetings. Through the cooperation of one of your citizens, a member of the Racing Pigeon Union, we are able to send you this message by racing pigeon. New Castle is one of the fourteen cities on the route of the New Columbian for which the cars of the train are named. We trust that this may be the means of further associating this train and its service with the people of these communities.
Yours Truly,

President,

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, May 7.—(Censored) The Nationalist garrison at Shanghai announced today that American naval forces have withdrawn from their North China base at Tsingtao.

The American withdrawal came while the Communists reportedly were launching a determined attack 20 miles north of the city. At least two light cruisers and several destroyers of the United States West Pacific Fleet steamed out of Tsingtao when word reached the port that the long expected Communist assault had begun. The port has been encircled by Communist forces for some time.

Husband Of Slain Woman Is Questioned

Police Report First Admission Of Slaying Woman Is Later Denied

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(INS)—Police today were questioning the husband of a woman who was found beaten to death in a hotel room in Pittsburgh last Thursday. The victim was identified yesterday as Betty Donovan, 32, of Pittsburgh.

Detective Lieutenant Peter Connors said that James Schleigh, 27, first admitted killing the woman whom he claimed to have married in 1946, but later denied it.

The woman was identified through finger prints secured when she had been arrested on three occasions for alleged minor offenses.

Schleigh was questioned twice yesterday, officers said, and the second time voluntarily confessed to the slaying. Connors quoted him as saying:

"I killed her with a beer bottle." However, night clerk James McBain at the Palmer Hotel, where the woman's nude and battered body was found Thursday, failed to identify Schleigh as the man who registered with the victim early the morning of the slaying. Connors said Schleigh will be questioned again today.

Report 20 Rebels Killed In Clash In Philippines

Press dispatches reaching Manila said that 20 rebels were believed killed in one clash and that 180 other Huk fled into the mountains of Nueva Ecija province. Government troops made several "blitz" sorties throughout the province to strike at small Huk strongholds in an effort to drive them into a government trap.

Sen. Connally Asserts Senate Will Approve North Atlantic Pact

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—A top Truman administration spokesman expressed absolute confidence today that the senate will approve the North Atlantic security pact.

This was the opinion expressed by Sen. Connally (D. Tex.), senate foreign relations chairman, when reporters asked whether he is certain that the senate will ratify the treaty. He replied:

"Sure. There's no doubt about it whatever."

Connally predicted that floor debate will last "about two weeks" once the pact is cleared by his committee.

He said he is "not worried" about the accompanying legislation which would authorize the United States to rearm western European signers to the tune of one billion, 130 million dollars in the first year of operation.

May Reach Senate By June

The pact probably will not reach the senate floor—where it will collide with a mounting legislative logjam—before June 1, Connally said about two weeks of committee hearings remain.

On Monday the committee will hear former Secretary of War Robert Patterson, listed as an advocate of the treaty.

Spokesmen also will appear for the League of Women Voters, the General Federation of Women's (Continued on Page Two)

Bombardment Of Russia By Radio Getting Under Way

U.S. And Britain Seek To Counteract Soviet Jamming Of News Broadcasts

LONDON, May 7.—(INS)—A shortwave "bombardment" of Russia by 61 American and British radio transmitters gets under way today in an effort to counteract Soviet jamming of western news broadcasts.

The British Broadcasting corporation and the Voice of America are joining forces in the campaign to reach the Russian people via the airwaves. A total of 61 radio transmitters will be employed in the first of the broadcasts, scheduled for 10:15 a. m. EDT.

Hitherto, the U. S. and Britain each employed 10 transmitters in their broadcasts to the Soviets. Radio experts believe the Russians are using 60 transmitters to jam Anglo-American broadcasts.

(A voice of American spokesman in New York said the Soviets may be employing as many as 100 transmitters for the purpose.)

Shanghai Outer Defense Breached By Communists

Shanghai Garrison Reports Reds Have Blasted Gap In Outer Defenses

REPORT FIGHTING AT SEVERAL PLACES

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, May 7.—(Censored)—The Shanghai garrison reported today that Communist troops have blasted a gap in the strongly-fortified outer defenses of the city.

The Nationalist communique did not say where the city's defenses had been breached.

Drive Against Tsingtao

At the same time, the garrison announced that Communists in the north have begun a drive against Tsingtao, where several U. S. warships of the west Pacific fleet are stationed.

On the western front the Communists were reported closing in on Nanchang, Nationalist stronghold 300 miles southwest of Shanghai.

Earlier, the Nationalists reported fighting of "unprecedented fury" raging south and west of Shanghai and claimed they had repulsed Communist forces at Kunshan, 30 miles from the port.

The government-controlled Central News Agency said that large formations of government planes bombed airfields, military installations and factories at Peiping, Mukden and Taiyuan, Communist strongholds in the north.

Report Steel Plants Hit

Steel plants and arsenals at Taiyuan—"the Pittsburgh of China"—were reported hit by incendiary and high-explosive bombs. A two-pronged Communist assault is apparently striking at Shanghai via Hunshan, 30 miles to the west, and Kashing, the town astride the Hangchow-Shanghai railroad, 60 miles southwest of the city of six million.

A government communique said that 10,000 Communists were repulsed in a fierce eight-hour battle at Kunshan, and that 1,000 Communist troops were killed. Two hundred prisoners were reported taken and a large haul of arms captured.

The Nationalist communique from Kashing, however, were not as optimistic. One said that the Kashing airfield had been recaptured by the government and that Communists north of the town were retreating. However, an earlier dispatch said the artillery-backed Communists captured Pingwang, 25 miles north of Kashing.

Young Joliet Girl Faces Murder Charge

JOLIET, Ill., May 7.—(INS)—A formal charge of murder was lodged today against a 13-year-old Oak Lawn school girl who admitted the "urge" drowning near Joliet of a 7-year-old boy playmate.

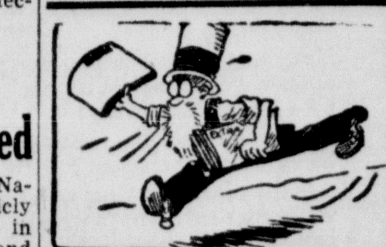

However, the girl, Diane Allen, was ordered given psychiatric examinations before being brought before the grand jury for possible indictment.

She is being held on a murder warrant signed by Charles Johnson, father of Charles Jr., the child whom Diane has admitted drowning in a drainage ditch last Sunday while they were picking wildflowers.

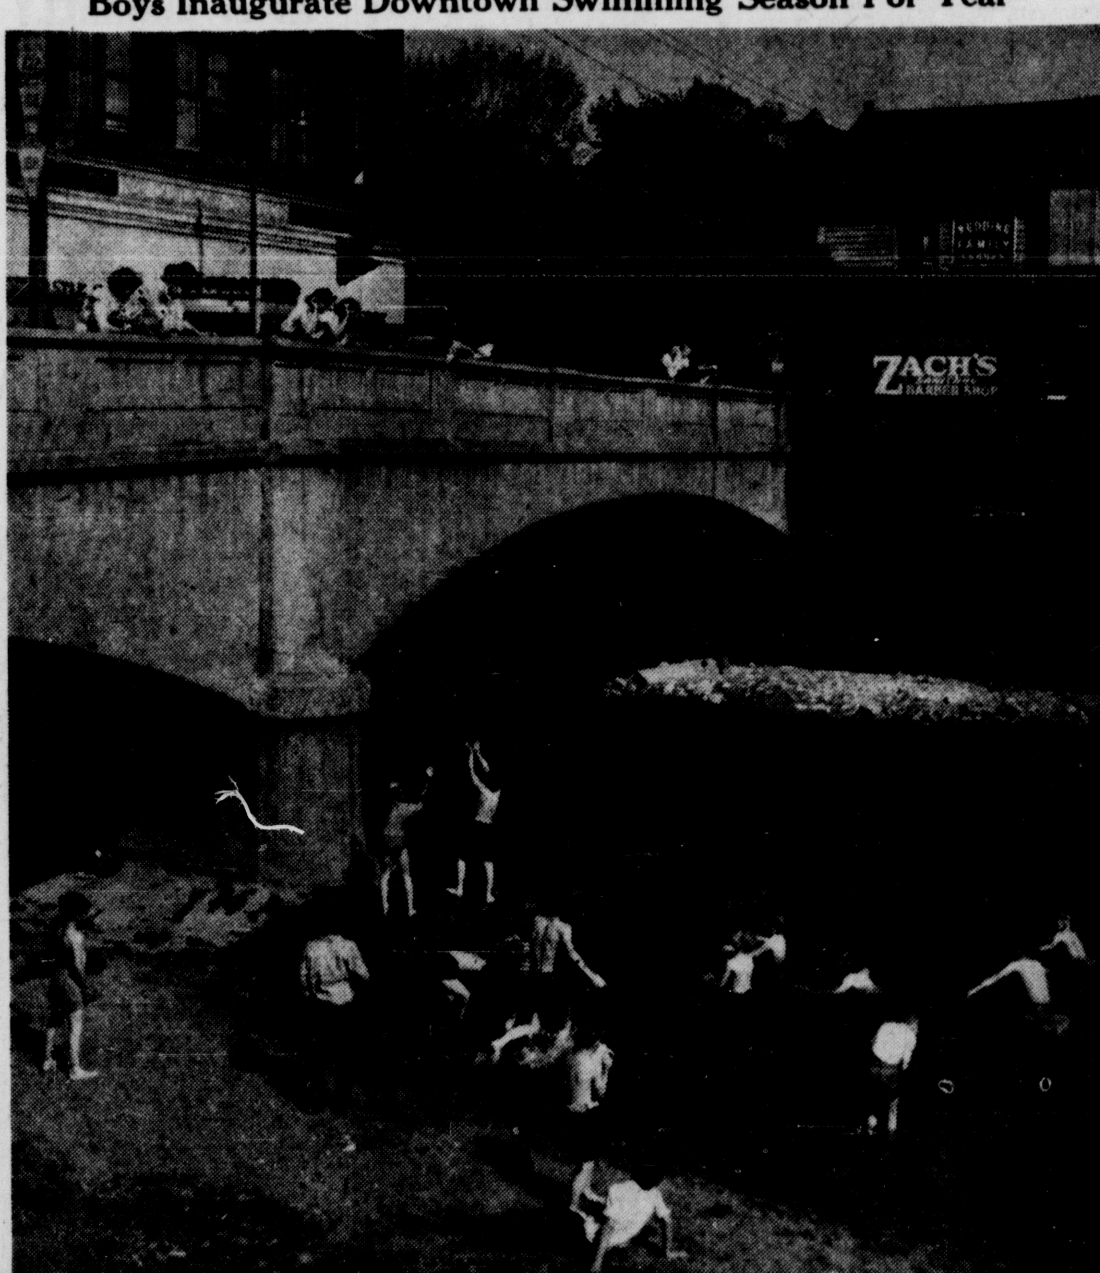

Diane, an attractive, tomboyish redhead, told authorities impressively how she drowned her youthful playmate to satisfy an "overpowering urge to kill."

What was the score in the ball game, when does the airlift end, what will the Congress do this year, and how much dough will it spend. Where can I rent an apartment, are the highways now free of sleet, how many precincts are there in town, where is some funny named street. All of these things have an answer, your newspaper tells it to you, the source of your best information, the weather is now sixty-two.

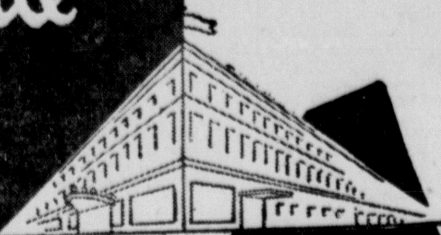

Boys Inaugurate Downtown Swimming Season For Year

Summer is yet over a month away but the thermometer readings of the past few days and the scene under the East Washington street bridge belie the fact. Boys are already swimming under the bridge and passers-by are again tossing coins to them. Indicated by the arrow, two young ladies have their hands up, tossing coins into the water. Below, the boys in the water wait expectantly as one fellow stands directly under the girls with hands ready to catch coins. Two boys on the right of the picture are hurrying to get near enough to try to get the coins as another rushes into the water in the lower center of the photo.

MOTION REFUSED
Judge John G. Lamoree has refused to strike off the non-suit granted in the case of Michael W. Ritter against Nels Olsen.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—Adolphe J. Menjou, the suave screen gent who has more suits than a Nevada divorce attorney, parlayed a moss-bitten cliché into fame and fortune.

The best-dressed guy in the movie industry found that the fastest way to get to the top was to hitch his wagon to a star.

Tells Of Break
In Menjou's current flicker, "The Bandwagon," he makes like a film producer who gives William Powell, Mark Stevens and Betsy Drake their movie breaks. Between scenes today the 59-year-old actor recalled how he snagged his own first break.

"Back in 1914 my shoes were so thin I could stand on a nickel and tell whether it was head or tails," he said. "My wardrobe consisted of one well-worn suit."

"I managed to get a couple of days work as a dress extra on a picture called 'The Saleslady' in New York. A pal told me if I wanted to get my face in the movie and the still camera the best thing to do was to stick close to the big star."

"The star happened to be Irving Cummings, now a famous director. Whenever Cummings and his leading lady, Hazel Dawn, danced in the cabaret scene, I stuck closer to them than a fly to flypaper."

"Everytime Cummings had a contest awarded to Mickey Stowe and George Safranik and Jeanette Dagan."

Jeannette Dagan and Donald Womer were eliminated early in the play and were given consolation prizes.

closeup, my mugg was in the scene, too."

The veteran actor from Pittsburgh related: "Armed with still photos of the scene, I hiked up and down New York buildings looking for other movie companies. They didn't have elevators in those days. I found one outfit on the 11th floor. It was the Crystal film company."

"I whipped out the stills and showed how important my last role was—standing right behind the star, Cummings."

Doing All Right
That swung it. Menjou worked in two successive pictures for Crystal Films—one with Mary Boland and one with Jane Gray.

"And," he said, "somehow I've been doing all right ever since."

Menjou, who was a topflight screen star when Bill Powell was breaking into pictures as a young heavy in silent films, edged over to where Powell was getting ready for a scene in "The Bandwagon."

The dapper actor waved goodbye, and added: "See? I'm still sticking close to the stars."

Rev. J. A. Gaiser To Make Alaska Visit

Selected As Missionary Visitor
From Methodist Church
To Go To Alaska

Rev. James A. Gaiser, pastor of First Methodist church, has just received word from the Board of Missions of the Methodist church in New York City that the Executive committee of this board has approved his selection as a missionary visitor to the mission field in Alaska.

Bishop Gerald Kennedy had previously invited the local pastor to speak at the Alaska conference which meets in Anchorage in July. The Official board of First Methodist church had approved this missionary journey and the matter had rested on the problem of transportation and the final action by the General board in New York City. Dr. Earl R. Brown has notified Rev. Gaiser that he is to travel by airplane from Seattle to Ketchikan, Juneau, Whitehorse, Fairbanks and Anchorage. In the Methodist church Alaska comes under the Division of Home Missions. Therefore the trip to Alaska this summer will give Rev. Gaiser a first-hand visit to a great home missions field, even as his trip to Europe gave him an insight into the foreign mission field.

This honor has come as a result of his work as president of the Erie Conference Board of Missions. It brings a double honor to First Methodist church in that the pastor of this church has been selected to visit both the home and foreign missions fields.

Rev. Gaiser plans to leave in the early part of July and to take his family with him as far as Seattle. He will then rejoin them and make the return trip. Because part of the trip will be made by air, Mr. Gaiser will be absent from the First church pulpit for only three Sundays.

By night and by day, through fair weather and foul, the motor truck driver carries on, hurrying that important load to some distant city, to an isolated village, delivering his cargo on time.

Like the followers of Jason, the truck driver knows only one thing, to keep going until the job is done. If his task lacks the adventure and romance of the ancient Argonauts, the lack of these is compensated by his value as an agent of modern transportation.

For at the end of the haul they know a lot of people are waiting for the merchandise he has been hauling.

reportedly growing epidemic of "Titoism" in the satellite states, where there has been an increasing sentiment for following the lead of Yugoslavia in trading with the west.

A successful solution of the whole German problem at the council meeting after the blockade is lifted would be of tremendous moral and material value to the west. But it will not necessarily mean a disastrous defeat for Stalin and his doctrines.

It will mean that he must pursue a different course if he actually is determined to spread his militant Communism throughout Europe and the world.

Flying Menagerie Reaches New York

NEW YORK, May 7.—(INS)—Two elephants and 750 other wild animals recuperated in New York today from a "hectic" week-long flight half-way around the world.

The elephants—Babies only four feet tall—three tigers, four leopards, a baby orang-outang, 700 Java monkeys, and assorted pythons, cobras, lizards, and tropical birds, were flown from Batavia, in the Netherlands East Indies.

The flying menagerie is to be split up and shipped to zoos and circuses all over the country. Its diminutive, 24-year-old attendant on the flight, Miss Jennie Cutrys, of Williamstown, N. J., said that at one point the tigers, the elephants and four long-beaked hornbills broke loose, but were captured without mishap.

Y.W.C.A. Seminar Slated On May 10

Purpose, Aims Of Local
YWCA To Be Explained
To Those Attending

PROGRAM WILL BE HUMOROUS, HELPFUL

Plans are completed for the Orientation Seminar to be held in the YWCA Tuesday, May 10, from 10:30 to 2:30 o'clock for all members of all YWCA committees.

Mrs. James W. Moorehead, president of the YWCA, states that anyone else interested in knowing more about the YWCA, what the committees do, what the YWCA actually means in the light of today may attend.

To Help People

The word "orientation" is defined as meaning any process determining the bearings or relation to any matter or subject. This Orientation Seminar will help all the people who attend in just that way. It will help them to get their bearings in relation to their job, and to the YWCA as a whole. There is much more involved in the philosophy and standards of a good YWCA than many people realize. It is no easy task for either the volunteer or the professional staff worker to put into effect the last phrase in the purpose of the local YWCA. It reads "to become a social force for the extension of the kingdom of God." Every woman and girl who joins the YWCA is committed to share in making that phrase real.

Program Arranged

The seminar will open with an assembly led in a worship service by Mrs. George D. Morris and while still in assembly the program will include a welcome by the president, Mrs. James W. Moorehead; group singing led by Mrs. Clark McClelland; a resume of YWCA history, beginning with its origin in England and coming right down to the present in New Castle, Mrs. Roy A. Long; explanation of an orientation seminar, the techniques of a good committee and a presentation of both the church purpose and the personal purpose of the YWCA by Miss Dorothy Stewart; recommendations from national convention by the delegates.

Plan Discussion

After this the group will discuss their own jobs and also discuss the purposes as presented by Miss Stewart and the convention recommendations as presented by Mrs. Moorehead. Following lunch all will meet again in assembly to report on the findings of their discussions.

The seminar is not all serious. There will be some fun, too. Mrs. Moorehead and Mrs. James I. Rush will present "The Shoestring Express", a very clever skit brought back from the convention and written by Barbara Abel. It is written in operative form and portrays in a fine humorous way truths of the YWCA.

Committee In Charge

All committee members are to call their chairmen by noon Monday, who then will report to the YW regarding the number to attend. Any other person attending should call the YW directly. Special invitations have been extended to all social agencies and Community Chest staff and board.

New England Woman Reported Kidnapped Goes Home To Mother

She Apparently Knew Nothing Of Kidnap Report Which Started
Search For Her

SOMERVILLE, Mass., May 7.—(INS)—A young Somerville mother, whose husband had reported she was "kidnapped" last week along with their two small children, turned up at the home of her mother Friday.

She apparently knew nothing of the "kidnap" report which had started a New England-wide search for her.

A short time before the woman, 19-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Bissett, arrived by taxicab at the home of her mother in Roxbury, Mass. Other members of the family had told police they believed she left home of her own free will.

Mrs. Bissett was not accompanied on Friday by Dominic Santangelo, 35-year-old Boston ex-convict and the man the woman's husband, Irving, 25, alleged had kidnapped her and the children.

Learn Of Visit

Shortly after the police search started for the woman and two children, Lvonne, 3, and Carol, 6 months, authorities at Springfield, Mass., learned she had visited an uncle there last Thursday.

Bissett had told police he thought his wife and children had been kidnapped eight days ago by Dominick Santangelo, 35, of Boston, who has a police record of 20 arrests in 23 years. Springfield police today quoted the uncle, however, as saying:

"They stopped at my house for several hours on Thursday. The man was driving a car. My niece did not give him a name. She introduced him only as a friend. They left about 8 o'clock that night without saying where they were going."

"She didn't appear as if she was being held against her will. I guess the only trouble is she got in with the wrong guy."

The kidnapping theory also was challenged by Mrs. Mary Tricomi of South Braintree, sister of Santangelo. She told police her brother, Mrs. Bissett and the two children visited her home last week. She said:

"I know Mrs. Bissett. I met her two or three times with my brother. The last time was last week when she came down to my house with Dominic and the children."

"Mrs. Bissett told me she left her husband and that she was going to get a divorce."

SHY CHILD

"My child, aged 10, is shy and self-conscious, especially when meeting strangers. He seems happy when alone coloring his books and reading. This seems abnormal to me. Can you suggest any way I might correct this condition before it develops too far?"

Answer: It is wise to study the shy child and discover the reason for his shyness. Maybe it is merely self-consciousness due to lack of proper training when he was in the early stages of development.

However, shyness is not always the result of self-consciousness. Many of the world's great geniuses were shy, retiring children. Perhaps your child is a student who prefers to spend time in study and reading. He should, of course, be encouraged to mingle with playmates of his own age. But do not nag him into doing so. The "run theory is all wrong, if he is engrossed in some mental pursuit. Tell him that he must have a certain amount of fresh air and exercise every day and that he must arrange his schedule so that he will not become too sedentary. Arrange parties for him, inviting self-consciousness children of both sexes. Have games of skill that he may exercise his mental proficiency and distinguish himself. Perhaps elementary books on birds and flowers would tempt him to do some outdoor studying.

By drawing youngsters into congenial activities, their self-consciousness disappears. This is preferable to forcing them to mingle with others by reminding them of their bashfulness. Singling out a self-conscious child and telling others, in his presence, of his shyness will but enlarge the inferiority complex from which he is now suffering. Children are extremely sensitive. Many a shy child has had his shyness increased by thoughtless remarks about his appearance or his lack of poise.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Scranton Transit Strike Continues

SCRANTON, Pa., May 7.—(INS)—The Scranton bus and street car strike today plodded into its 35 day with no settlement in sight. A four cents an hour wage increase offered by the Scranton Transit Company was rejected last night by officials of the street car men's union (AFL). The offer was not submitted to the 400 striking workers.

"It's not enough," was the terse explanation of a union spokesman. The rejection of the offer marked another failure of Mayor James T. Hanlon to settle the crippling walkout.

The union seeks a 29 cents an hour increase in the base rate of $1.21.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, May 7.—(INS)—Parisian Designer Jacques Fath has come up with a nutty dress—and it's really the nuts!

One model is covered with dried walnut shells, another with dried almond shells. And here and there acorns sprout.

The dress is designed for cocktail wear and is decidedly dressy. Several models arrived in New York this week: some with walnuts, some with almonds, some with acorns.

Fath is quoted as saying: "Well, at least it's something to talk about."

Who's nuts?

Sees Justification For Atlantic Pact

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—(INS)—Elco N. Van Kleffens, Netherlands ambassador to the United States, believes the North Atlantic pact was fully justified in view of Russia's "expansionism."

Kleffens told the world affairs council of Philadelphia last night that the agreement complied with the "regional arrangements" sanctioned by the United Nations charter.

He said:

"Let us never forget that the North Atlantic pact is a defensive reaction against the proven expansive record of the Soviet Union, against consistent Soviet misuse of the veto, and against Soviet attempts to use the United Nations as a new weapon in the Soviet armory."

Trapeze Artist Has Close Call

NEW YORK, May 7.—(INS)—A trapeze artist, who nightly defied death to give 15,000 circus fans an added thrill at Madison Square Garden, was reported in "good" condition at Polyclinic hospital today after he plunged 40 feet to the ground.

The performer, Friedrich Hermesen, one of the trapeze stars of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey circus, was spinning on his head on a fixed trapeze when the accident occurred.

A circus official said the accident was caused when the metal support of his trapeze apparently became "fatigued." Hermesen, who is billed as "The Great Trisko" is a native of Holland.

The discovery that the altitude of the North Star is always the same as the latitude of the obser-of early days. They sailed almost entirely by the stars during those times, and when clouds darkened the skies they were almost help-

Uniontown Tops Nats 15-7; Derby Excites Nation Today

Pitchers Set New Record For Walks

Without fear of contradiction we can truthfully say the baseball game at Flaherty Memorial Field last night will go down in the record books, as the most "walk-in-gest" game ever played in the Mid-Atlantic League. Uniontown won from the Nats 15 to 7.

In a game that required 3 hours and 20 minutes of playing time some 400 fans saw everything that can happen in a ball game, and thrilled to a base full homer, by Lou Cholewa of the Nats, in the eighth inning, his second round-tripper in two days.

30 Walks Issued
The fans saw six pitchers parade to the hill, and saw exactly 30 walks issued by the six hurlers. New Castle got 16 walks and Uniontown 14 free trips.

Uniontown had 15 hits off of Mike Giardullo, Paul Morasky, Robert Maue and Nick Galovitch, and included in his array of clouts were five doubles and ten singles. New Castle had five hits off of Howard and Churn, which included the grand slam homer by Cholewa, doubles by De La Torres and Galovitch and singles by Traspuesto and Tufts. Churn was the winner and Giardullo the loser last night.

Lead Soon Vanishes

New Castle held a 2-to-0 lead in the first three innings, and looked on their way—but the walls fell in the fourth as the Coal Barons batted in five runs on five hits and drove strapping hurler Mike Giardullo to the showers in favor of Morasky who lasted part way through the big fifth and was derided for Maue who pitched to two batters in the fifth and gave way to Galovitch.

The Nats scored twice in the third inning on one hit, a single by Traspuesto after Cholewa and Mongiello had walked, with one out. New Castle never got another hit off Churn who relieved Howard until the big eighth when two hits, one a homer and the other a double, and three walks produced five markers.

Twin Bill At Oil City

Uniontown took the three game series two to one. The Nats will play at Oil City in a twin bill to-night and a single game Sunday. The Nats will return to New Castle Monday to play a single game with the Youngstown Athletics at 8 o'clock and a twin bill Tuesday the first game at 8 o'clock and it will be "Ladies' Night".
